Instead, it implements a revolutionary way to create and organize your collection. No longer must you type information about every book by hand! Just enter the book's title or ISBN number from the back of the book, and All My Books will retrieve the rest of the data automatically from the Internet. Missing a book? You might have loaned it out a while ago, but can you remember who borrowed the book from you and when? All My Books tracks the books from your collection with the built-in loaner manager. Giving a book away? Just put a quick note on who took it, and All My Books will record the date automatically. Even better, All My Books will remind you of that book when the time comes!
