

Usability Studio

Software for running usability testing With Usability Studio, you can see how your users work with your website or application. You can find out how easy they cope with the required tasks and whether the interface you have created is convenient and clear for them. The application records from a camera and the screen, recording user's emotions and actions he takes. You just need to analyzed the data obtained and draw conclusions on the convenience of your product.